NOVATIO RedactAI

REDACTION TOOL

Google Cloud

State agencies face overwhelming public records requests with strict statutory deadlines. RedactAI reduces manual redaction time by up to 80–90%, enabling agencies to meet compliance requirements without increasing headcount.

Powered by Google's advanced Generative AI, RedactAI goes beyond simple pattern matching to understand context and meaning. A built-in Validation Workspace keeps humans in the loop, ensuring accuracy before public release.
As the system learns, agencies can shift to exception-based reviews, focusing only on complex cases and further reducing manual effort over time.

Features:

- Built-in workflow to accommodate multiple approvers
- Redaction removes the data, doesn't just mask it
- Validation workspace allows the AI to learn from the human's input making the system smarter
- Human in the loop redaction that can be scaled down as confidence rises

- Can be integrated into current document flows
- Redaction can be applied simultaneously across thousands of documents
- A clean, redacted PDF is exported after the redactions providing burned in redactions with no residual text

- Personal identifiable information is detected including signatures
- Personal health information is detected including test results and images
- The level of detail for redaction can be customized based on customer needs

Novatio's RedactAI isn't just about faster document scrubbing; it's about empowering state agencies to reclaim their time and uphold the highest standards of protecting citizen data. By combining the intelligence of Google's advanced AI with a secure, human-in-the-loop workflow, RedactAI reduces the high-risk manual burden of redaction.

As the system learns from your expertise, it evolves with your agency, drastically reducing the manual lift, eliminating backlogs, and ensuring that every public release of information is as secure as it is timely. Modernize your response, protect your data, and move from manual redaction processing to intelligent oversight with RedactAI.

Why Novatio

Novatio brings deep expertise in artificial intelligence consulting, supply chain management and compliance, intelligent process automation, and AI in business process management. Our hybrid delivery model, spanning onsite, onshore, and offshore, allows us to scale AI deployments efficiently and cost-effectively—driving faster time to market.

Our cross-functional teams bring hands-on experience delivering complex, multi-stakeholder solutions across highly regulated industries, ensuring both compliance and performance at scale.

Our agile delivery model is backed by continuous innovation, enabling clients to harness the power of AI, intelligent automation, cloud-native platforms, and real-time analytics. What truly sets us apart is our future-focused mindset: we stay actively engaged in partner ecosystems, SAP leadership councils, and global industry forums, ensuring that every solution we build is aligned with best practices and engineered for what's next.
